100 ESCAPE FROM BURNING HOUSE BY RUSH TO ROOF

Police Rout Tenants From Beds and Direct Them to Safety.

A hundred persons living in the fivestory tenement house at No. 237 East Forty-sixth street were routed out of their bede and made their eachpe by going to the roof and down into hallways of neighboring buildings when fire was tenants were warned by Patrolmen Coffor, Kaleer and Giblin, all new policemen attached to the Bast Fifty-first street police station, who went through the house knocking on doors and directing the people out. Several chil-dren were carried out by the policemen. The fire was confined to the cellar and part of the first floor, and was put out with a damage estimated at $1,000.

The fire was discovered by Caffey, who turned in an alarm. Raiser and Giblin joined him and the three policemen rushed into the douse. The flames smoke filled the hallway.

As the people poured into the hallway and in scant attire ran toward the roof, the officers were kept busy calming the women and leading them and the chil-dren to safety. Mrs. John Murphy, with her children-William, four years old, and Elizabeth, one year old-became frightened and hysterical, and Coffey carried the children to the fire-escape in the front of the building and thence to the street.

Mrs. Michael Baldwin, with her child frightened, and Giblin led her down the ire-escape while he carried the child. After the arrival of the firemen the fire was quickly brought under control, ants, many of whom had taken refuge with neighbors, went back to their homes. None of the living apartments was damaged.

QUEEN THANKS GEESE. (From the London Chronicle.)
In Queen Victoria's time it was the mand' performance as that at Knowi ley all last evening, for her private secretary to send a letter of thanks next morning to the entertainers. The late Sir Henry Ponsonby, upon who not this duty devolved, was the very soul of politeness, and never made any nice distinctions as to the recipients of Henry Majesty's gratitude. Accordingly the same form of letter was sent to all alike, and on one occasion the proprietor of a troupe of performing geese, which had entertained the royal children at a Windsor garden party, received the following communication from Sir Henry: "Sir—I am instructed by the Queen to thank you for your visit of yesterday, and to express the hope that the ladies and gentlemen of your company have returned safely to London, and in good health:"
